EXHIBITOR PROSPECTUS

It is with a great sense of excitement and anticipation that we announce the 11th International Meeting of the SPIR in Lake Buena Vista, Florida. Our 2022 gathering in Galway, Ireland, was a successful return to a predominantly in-person meeting. As we continue to adjust to new normal routines through the pandemic, we look forward to networking together once again.

Our society was born out of the desire to work collectively in the interest of the children and families that we serve. Pediatric interventional radiologists, whether in Sydney or Atlanta, Madrid or Singapore, face similar challenges and successes in patient care and practice building. We all want to answer the questions “How do you do that? How can we do it better? Where are the pitfalls? What gets you excited to go to work in the morning?” And of course, we have the mutual goal of advancing our field for the future, so that our investments in training pay dividends for decades to come.

The theme for this year’s scientific program is “Illuminate.” Sessions will challenge us to define and clarify our individual and collective goals in our practices. Cutting-edge care for complex problems such as venous thrombosis/pulmonary embolism and portal hypertension and shunts will be highlighted. We will offer a glimpse into PIR around the world, with spotlights on practitioners from diverse backgrounds. There will be sessions dedicated to practice building, training and education concerns, wellness, and the patient experience from start to finish. We will shine a light on the experiences of our wise membership with the return of our “Pearls in Practice” and with a Video Case Learning session. And on the final day of the meeting, we are excited to present a dedicated block of Challenging Cases and M&M presentations. Of course, no meeting is complete without Scientific Abstract sessions, with selections from the best of the best submissions.

We are continually grateful for ongoing relationships with our vendors, without whose support there would be no Annual Meeting of the SPIR. Engaging with the representatives from various companies keeps us on par with devices and services we use each and every day. We thank you in advance for your continued support and welcome you to SPIR 2023.

SPIR President, on behalf of the entire Board of Directors

About the SPIR

The Society for Pediatric Interventional Radiology is an international organization dedicated to excellence in Pediatric Interventional Radiology. The Society unites experts from centers across the world and gives them a forum to discuss, debate and develop this specialty together. Our annual congress provides a platform for teams to share their expertise and learn how to apply the latest IR techniques in children. SPIR supports research initiatives in a number of regions, recognizing that in order to innovate and improve, we need to collaborate and learn from each other. SPIR has members from over 20 nations and actively seeks to support those who may be delivering PIR in relative isolation. We work with training schemes to attract emerging talent to our specialty and encourage Members-in-Training participation via our meetings and education programs.

SPIR works with other organizations such as SIR, SPR, ESPR, CIRSE, SIDI, ASPVIR and the Chinese SPIR to raise the profile and influence of pediatric IR. We also reach out to nations where PIR is not yet a reality, so that in time, every child in the world has access to minimally invasive, life-changing treatment.

SPiR Meeting Scientific Program

We are excited to present 3 full days of sessions featuring the following PIR hot topics at our 11th International meeting:

Deep Venous Thrombosis and Pulmonary Embolism

From start to finish, learn the latest in thromboembolic care for children. The session will include a broad range of topics, including PERT evaluation, treatment algorithms and rationale, the latest in equipment options, post-procedural care, and long-term outcomes.

Portal Hypertension and Portosystemic Shunts

With an emphasis on physiology and case examples, this session will highlight the many causes and treatment of portal venous abnormalities.

Scientific Publications

This will be a 3-part session:

- How to prepare manuscripts for successful publication
- How to review publications with a critical eye
- How to establish and maintain a successful journal club

Patient Care

What's it like to be a patient in a pediatric IR practice? This session will touch on various aspects of what our patients experience, including child life involvement, referring provider perspectives, and sedation/anaesthesia considerations.

Pediatric IR Pearls

A variety of pediatric IR professionals will share comments about what they have learned over the years. Similar to mini TED talks, these quick talks will allow multiple presenters the chance to share a single "pearl" of knowledge or wisdom.

Trainees, Training, and Workforce

One of our most important roles is ensuring the future of our specialty by recruiting and training the next generation. This session will include a current trainee as well as more experienced educators who will share their perspectives.

Practice Management

Day-to-day operations of a practice will be highlighted, including team composition, workflow, billing, inventory, rounding, clinic, and physical space.

Video Case Learning

We will present video-recorded cases of actual PIR procedures. The focus will be on reflection, questions, and discussion after each case.

Take Care

How do we take care of ourselves so that we can take care of others? This session will include strategies for success, including the benefits of executive coaching, how to recognize and treat burnout, and elements of a healthy team/practice.

Urgent and Emergent

Techniques and knowledge for patients who can't wait. Presentations will focus on the care of infants and children with trauma, acute illnesses, and retained equipment: times when we are able to make a big impact when it matters most.

Back by Popular Demand:

Morbidity and Mortality

An entire half-day dedicated to learning from our most challenging clinical problems. Following the case presentations, there will be time for debriefing and reflection.

Plus:

- Scientific sessions: the best of the best presentations gleaned from our submissions
- Pediatric JeopIRdy! Two teams battle it out in a fun-filled game of knowledge and wits
- Dedicated time for committee meetings on-site
